L. O. Fullen, the postmaster and editor of the Carlsbad Argus at Carlsbad, has been appointed district attorney for the Pecos Valley counties. The News is pleased to have the opportunity to extend congratulations to our worthy Knight of the quill. L. O. Fullen is one of the most capable young men in the republican party in New Mexico, and this is a fitting recognition of his worth.

The people of Tucumcari have been warned repeatedly about the necessity of cleaning up, and the city council and the board of health have issued notices to the effect that it must be done, and still very little has been accomplished in some quarters of the city, and there is filth galore to be seen in many quarters. Our city marshal has warned a good many, but it seems that it is going to be necessary for him to go a little further with some cases. It would cause a great deal less trouble and much less expense if the people would get in and help until the city is sanitary.

There is one thing we must do if we make Quay County's First Annual Fair what the people have a right to expect of us, and that is, we must hurry. The time is short and everybody in Tucumcari and Quay county are busy; it is the busy season, but the various fair committees must work over-time until we are ready. It is time the program committee were reporting, grounds should be prepared and the buildings erected for agricultural exhibits, sheds for stock and the various other things about the fair grounds that must be ready at the opening. Farm exhibits if arranged in any sort of shape should be coming in right away. The money subscribed should be collected and turned over to the treasurer so the amounts to be used for different purposes may be determined
